

THE SOAP USED
AROUND THE WORLD

Spencer's Farm products have been used in such exotic locations as Africa, Nepal, Israel, Japan, South America, the Caribbean Basin...even Texas.

Seriously, though....

We are honored that Spencer's Farm Gentle Goat Milk Soap has been viewed as a model for agricultural entrepreneurship in underdeveloped countries. USDA representatives and agricultural specialists have taken samples of our wonderful soaps all over Africa, Europe, the Caribbean, and Asia as examples of value added products that are possible in small farming situations such as those common in their countries.

SPENCER'S FARM GENTLE GOAT MILK SKIN CARE PRODUCTS

Happy Goats

Spencer's Farm wouldn't be the same without them.

When using Spencer's Farm goat milk soap and lotions, you take advantage of all the vitamins, minerals and natural moisturizers in whole, fresh goat milk and the finest food grade oils available.

At Spencer's Farm, we raise a small herd of dairy goats to insure that we have access to high quality, fresh goat milk for the basis of our products. In addition, we use only food grade oils, known for their own unique healing properties. This way we can guarantee the highest quality, natural products.

*Farm Visitors Welcome by Appointment.
(Call well in advance of your planned trip.)*

Better for You

Our soap is completely unlike commercial soap, and here is why:

In the commercial soap making processes, soap is essentially a byproduct of glycerin production. Glycerin, which is the result of a chemical reaction that produces soap, is much more valuable than the soap itself. So, commercial producers remove the glycerin by cooking the soap to force the glycerin formation to occur quickly so they can harvest it from the soap vat and sell it for a multitude of commercial uses.

Our soap making process, known as cold process soap making, does not require cooking. In fact, our special techniques keep our ingredients at a comfortably low temperature, barely above body temperature throughout the entire process.

Utilizing this process, insures our soaps retain all the goodness inherent in our specially selected ingredients and our soap retains 100% of its natural glycerin.

Research shows that it takes up to two hours for your skin to recover from a typical shower. Goat Milk soap is pH balanced so no recovery time is necessary!

Our goat milk lotion uses more goat milk than any other ingredient. You won't find other goat milk lotions that list goat milk first on their ingredient lists! Ours is genuine goat milk lotion, not plain lotion with a little goat milk added.

Our Soaps and Lotions are made with and without fragrances to give you more choices in caring for your skin.

Ingredients

Goat milk contains an average of 4% buterfat, 3% protein, Vitamins A, B, and D, and medically significant medium chain fatty acids. It is believed that goat milk is capable of rebuilding collagen in your skin, making it a natural wrinkle reducer.

The oils we use are specifically chosen for their special properties. Among them are avocado to soften the skin, coconut and palm kernel to create a great lather, cocoa and shea butters which are legendary emollients, and castor and emu oil for their anti-bacterial, lubricant, and penetrant properties.

Not only is Spencer's Farm Soap good for your skin, it lasts longer than those inferior commercial soaps!
